THE MIRACLE OF THE QURAN

ذَٰلِكَ الْكِتَابُ لَا رَيْبَ ۚ فِيهِ ۚ هُدًى لِّلْمُتَّقِينَ

This is the Book! There is no doubt about it—a guide for those mindful 'of Allah'

As we reflect on Ramadan, we realize how much time we spent reciting, memorizing, and understanding the Quran—let's remember that it remains with us, timeless and miraculous even past the Holy Month. With each reading, there are new insights, reflecting its endless knowledge.

How is the Quran Miraculous?

The Quran is miraculous because it is inimitable; no human can replicate its unique literary and linguistic beauty. It challenges all to find any contradictions or to produce anything similar, challenges that have remained undefeated.

A Non-Muslim's Testimony

Al-Walid ibn Al-Mughira, a prominent non-believer and Quraysh leader, was openly hostile towards Prophet Mohammad ﷺ. Astonished by and in agreeance with the Quran's divine origin, his positive reaction alarmed the Quraysh. Under pressure from Abu Jahl and others, Al-Walid eventually dismissed the Quran as magic to appease his tribe. This incident led to the revelation of verses in Surah Al-Muddathir, highlighting his rejection and arrogance.

Science and Religion

Some argue that science, which is ever-changing, conflicts with religion. However, the Quran, unchanging and divinely inspired, has outlined scientific facts long before modern discovery, such as the male semen's role in determining the sex of the fetus (Chapter 75, verses 37–39). This, and many other examples of scientific revelation, illustrates the Quran's enduring relevance and foresight.

Meet Jesse and His Family

“ I had seen a video of a Palestinian mother holding her child who had passed away. Instead of asking God, ‘why?’, she was asking for patience. ”

In 2015, an incident occurred that provided what was necessary for me to believe in the existence of God. It sparked an initial desire to study religion. My dad was a Christian and my mom was a Catholic. It was after the events of October 7th in Palestine that I wanted to learn more about Islam. I researched as much as I could, and learned that I was very misguided. Early November came and I needed to get my hands on a copy of the Quran. When I received it, I would read a little here and a little there, but mainly used it to answer questions I had. I had seen a video on social media of a Palestinian mother holding her child who had passed away. Instead of asking God, “why?”, she was asking for patience. This video really stuck with me, and I knew I needed to read more.

I learned that whatever was going to happen to us is already written by Allah, and that worshipping only Allah can lead us to paradise. With my questions answered, I found a way of life I could see myself living. I was always the “black sheep” of my family and always felt like I did not fit in. When I embraced Islam, that feeling went away. I felt like I had a purpose in life: to serve Allah.

Converting to Islam was the most transformative event of my life. Despite initial challenges, the peace and fulfillment I've found are profound and sustaining.

Q&A WITH JESSE

Q: How did you share your new faith with your family, and what was their reaction?

Jesse: I took my Shahada on January 19th, which was joyful for me but brought mixed reactions from my family. Although they struggled with my decision due to their own beliefs, I continue to express my love and reassure them that I remain the person they know.

Q: Since your conversion, how has your sense of identity and purpose changed?

Jesse: Converting to Islam filled a previously unrecognized void in my life. I've found a strong sense of belonging and purpose, granting me peace and clear direction.

Q: Could you offer some advice to those curious about Islam or new converts?

Jesse: For those exploring Islam, keep an open mind and conduct your own research. For new converts, start with the basics, like learning the Fatiha, and integrate slowly into the community.

RECOGNITION

Asma Haque Girls Youth Director

Asma Haque is a valued member of the Al-Huda community and a dedicated student at Purdue University, where she is studying pharmacy. Asma also has an aspiration to become an A'limah. Her diverse background as a Bangladeshi married to a Palestinian enriches her role within our community, particularly as the girls' youth coordinator at Al-Huda Masjid. Driven by a strong desire to foster a nurturing environment, Asma has been instrumental in promoting sisterhood and support among young Muslimahs.

In her role, Asma has successfully created programs that blend spiritual education with social interaction, significantly impacting our youth by helping them forge a strong sense of identity and belonging. Her commitment to the community and her initiative in gathering valuable feedback continually enhance the youth programs.

We recognize and appreciate Asma Haque for her exceptional contributions to fostering the spiritual and emotional growth of our young members. Her efforts ensure that the youth not only understand their faith more deeply but also build lasting friendships that strengthen the fabric of our community.
